Dear Madam/Sir,

We invite you with great pleasure to take part in the ANEM round table "Role of the Media in the Fight against Corruption", to be held on 28 May 2014 (Wednesday) at Media Center, starting at 13.00. The round table is organised within the project "Illustrated Glossary of Corruption", implemented by ANEM in partnership with the Anti-Corruption Agency, and financed by the European Union.

The event will gather representatives of media and media/journalists' associations, media experts, representatives of institutions and non-governmental sector. The partner on the project – the Anti-Corruption Agency – will be represented by Zlata Đorđević, deputy president of the Agency's Board.

The goal of the event is to foster discussion on the role of the media in preventing and fighting corruption, on the conditions needed for the media to successfully fulfill this role, and on the improvement of cooperation among three important actors – media, non-governmental sector and institutions – in solving the problem of corruption.

This round table is the final activity on the project the main goal of which is to contribute to a more efficient prevention and fight against corruption by a more active inclusion of citizens and the media in the process.

The key activity on the project was the production and broadcasting of radio and TV series "Illustrated Glossary of Corruption", which were broadcast as of 24 March 2014 by 25 TV and 40 radio stations of the ANEM network throughout Serbia. Using local stories as illustrations, the series explains terms related to corruption, its prevention and the fight against corruption. The series is comprised of 21 radio and 21 TV episodes. Each of 20 episodes is dedicated to one term, while the last, 21st episode, sums up the previous ones. The episodes are available on the ANEM website and on the ANEM YouTube channel. "Guide for Journalists on Reporting about Corruption" was also produced within the project, intended for ANEM stations and available to them. The electronic "Glossary of Corruption" targets media, citizens and other interested parties. Using examples, the "Glossary" explains key terms related to corruption, prevention of corruption and the fight against it. The "Glossary of Corruption" is available on the ANEM website.

The final round table agenda is available below in this invitation. We hope that you will take part in the round table and contribute to the discussion.

We kindly ask you to confirm your participation by Monday, 26 May 2014 at email tatjana.boskic@anem.org.rs.
