

The eleventh magazine of the TV series “Step by step”

The eleventh magazine treats the changes in local self-governments that influence the quality of life of citizens.

The first story is from Vranje:

At the time when he started to build his factory „Nutriko“, Vladan Aleksic had to wait for a whole year to obtain building licences. Authorities in Vranje has responded fast to the law changes, simplified the procedures and speeded up the service; the construction permit could now be obtained for around only 10 days.

The second story is from Novi Becej:

Since she retired, Ruzica Tikvic has been renting rooms to tourists. Because it is important that her guests have good impressions from Novi Becej, she is happy this small town has found a way for its streets to be perfectly clean and well lit at night.

The third story is from Novi Pazar:

Amra Jejna is the Editor-in-chief in the Multimedia Centre, which was open in the local cultural centre two years ago. Amra was pleasantly surprised on citizens' and media's reaction on the rich cultural program of this Centre.
